

Debt Relief Soap Opera – Michael Harper, Hoffman Law Group, Greenspoon Marder

By Steve Rhode on September 19, 2014

Up till now the most bizarre debt relief related lawsuit I had seen was this one which included the “Charlatan,” “Felon,” and “Architect.”

But this court document sent to me has to either being the most bizarre of 2014 or be in top contention for debt relief lawsuit honors. It seems to be a soap opera of a bunch of people being thrown under the bus. It even involves $175,000 cash in a briefcase.

There is nothing I can add than was the Receiver has to say in his own words.

It is a long read but it reads like a movie script and if you are at all interested in the debt relief industry, it’s worth the time to take it all in from start to finish.

Who knows, maybe it will be the next Netflix original series.

For more go to <https://getoutofdebt.org/62856/debt-relief-soap-opera-michael-harper-hoffman-law-group>